Cutler's Communication.

The communication of the governor to the commission describes in detail his slumming expedition and is as follows: probation officer of Salt Lake county. I made the rounds of a number of the saloons and pool rooms of Salt Lake City, so as to study at first hand the situation as it affects the young people of our city. It was my first visit to these places, and the revelation as to conditions existing that I consider it well to call your attention to those conditions.

There were so many of them in the places we visited that I shall not attempt to give an estimate as to the number. In practically every case these pool rooms are conducted in connection with a bar. For within such easy access of one that drinking is an almost inevitable indulgence. And doubtless the further step is made easy to gambling and other forms of vice.

under 18 years of age. Surrounding them were a number of human wrecks, men tail to you, who are hopeless victims of vice and competent teachers in crime. The ultimate fate of boys of tender age who come into such association cannot be a matter of doubt. Still younger boys were found on the streets in the business districts, and in a number of instances they manifested a hardihood in exaggerating their ages that was remarkable in boys so young. It would indicate that their parents were at least passively in league with their vice.

Girls in Greek Resort.

A still worse feature was found in a Greek resort on West Second South. About a score of tables were surrounded by men in various stages of intoxication, who were drinking and playing cards. Profane, blashphemous and obscene language was being freely used. The room was dim with tobacco smoke and recking with the fumes of beer and whisky.

And here waiting on these men and And here, waiting on these men and hearing their foul language, were two American girls, one of whom said she was

The sister of the younger, a girl about 10 or 11 years old, was also there; her sister explaining that she had come to accompany her home. We made our visit to this place about 10 p. m. If we had not immediately sent the three girls had not immediately sent the three girls home, I do not know how much longer they would have remained.
